

Dr. Staples discusses work of the State Board to address achievement gaps in all schools (:17)

I think the state board is exploring how we make sure that every school, even if they are fully accredited, continues to look at the gaps among students and their outcomes to make sure that they're focused and building corrective action plans to close those gaps.